CALL FOR PAPERS— Volunteer Policing

Submission Deadline: February 1, 2025

Criminal Justice Policy Review (SAGE Publications) is a multidisciplinary peer-reviewed journal publishing articles written by scholars committed to the study of criminal justice policy through experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental approaches. The journal publishes six issues per year and accepts appropriate articles, essays, research notes, and book reviews. It also provides a forum for occasional special issues on notable topics in crime and justice. The journal appeals to criminologists, criminal justice researchers, sociologists, public administrators, and practitioners with an interest in criminal justice policy. For general information about Criminal Justice Policy Review, please go to <http://cjp.sagepub.com>.

The journal is currently soliciting manuscripts for a special issue focused on volunteer policing and the utilization and administration of volunteer police units and personnel. Manuscripts appropriate for this special issue include those that address: (1) innovative or novel data reflecting the use, training, or recruiting of volunteer police, (2) evaluation of volunteer policing effectiveness or perceptions of use, (3) comparative volunteer policing data, particularly international comparisons, and (4) other topics directly relating to volunteer policing programs.

Style and submission guidelines for Criminal Justice Policy Review are available at <http://cjp.sagepub.com>. All submissions must be submitted electronically via Scholar One Manuscripts at <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/cjpr>. For additional information about this special issue, please contact Dr. Jennifer L. Gossett, Editor-in-Chief, at jgossett@iup.edu or (724) 357-2720, or Guest Editors Dr. Adam Dobrin at adobrin@fau.edu and Dr. Ross Wolf at ross.wolf@ucf.edu.
